Rectal Examination, Stool Assessment and Enema Training Model

AR421

AR421/50

sia spinal injuries association
for life after spinal cord injury

We are delighted to have worked in collaboration with the Spinal Injuries Association to introduce additional functionality, making the model more versatile and lifelike than ever before. This advanced Rectal Examination Trainer enables realistic, hands-on practice in patient communication, stool assessment, and enema administration.

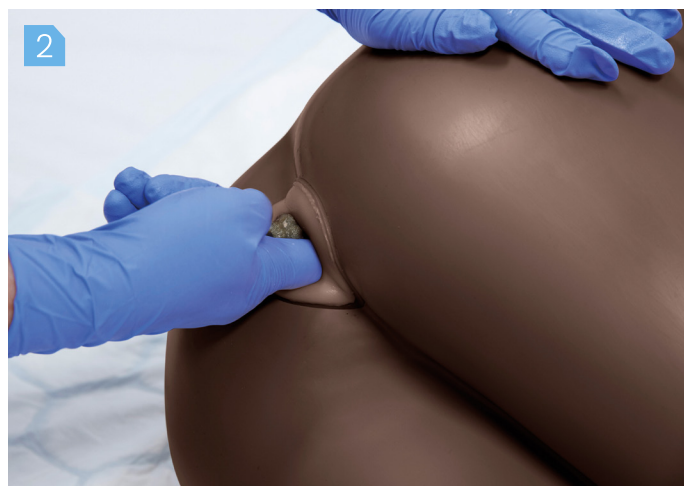

Featuring a simulated lower abdomen in left lateral position, with four interchangeable inserts, lifelike anatomy, and a Bristol Stool Scale flip guide, it supports training in diagnosis, stool extraction, and rectal medication delivery, making it ideal for OSCEs, nurse education, and clinical skills development.

Skills

- Patient communication, consent, and chaperone procedures for safe practice
- Identification of common and less common rectal conditions for training
- Rectal examination, stool assessment and the Bristol Stool Scale
- Identification of an abnormality palpable in the wall of the anal canal
- Enema administration and irrigation
- Administering of liquid rectal medication

Features

- Easy to use, minimal maintenance
- Internal anatomy now softer and more lifelike
